

OLW Alumni Newsletter - Happy Thanksgiving November 2017

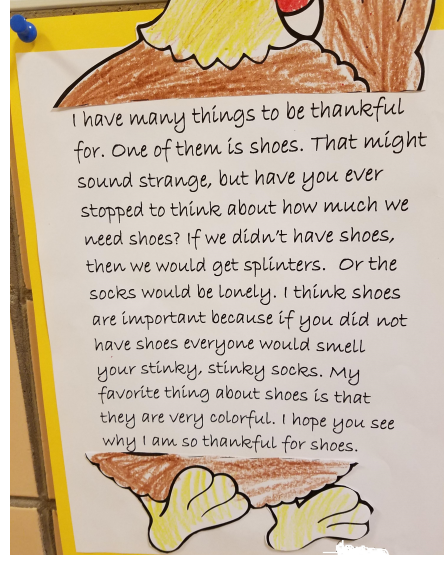

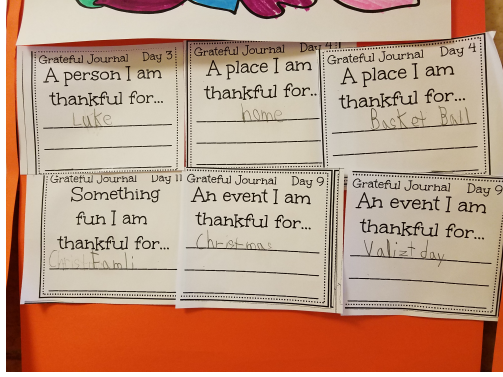

At the All Saints Day mass, fifth graders continued the tradition of processing in dressed as a saint. For at least 20 years, fifth graders have chosen a saint, learned about the life and death of that saint, and then dressed as that saint for Mass. After Mass, they give presentations to the elementary students. It's a great way for students to learn from each other.

The Season of Thanks and Giving

At OLW, we are thankful for: the teachers and administrators that are teaching our students to be eager learners and good Catholic citizens; the students who smile everyday and show kindness to each other; the parents who have chosen this school over others; the alumni who have left a legacy of excellence; the parish community who offer support and prayers.

Here are some Thanksgiving projects that are posted in the hallways in the elementary building. We love to see what our students are grateful for.

I have many things to be thankful for. One of them is shoes. That might sound strange, but have you ever stopped to think about how much we need shoes? If we didn't have shoes, then we would get splinters. Or the socks would be lonely. I think shoes are important because if you did not have shoes everyone would smell your stinky, stinky socks. My favorite thing about shoes is that they are very colorful. I hope you see why I am so thankful for shoes.
